The Raiders ... Their Persuit and Capture. The Athens Banner, of the 10th, contains the following interesting statement of the late pursuit and capture of Stoneman's raiders:

On the 27th ult:, Col W. C. P. Brickinridge, who was in command of Williams' Kentucky Brigade of Cavalry, on our extreme right near Decatur, received information from a scout that Gen. Stoneman had left Decatur with a large force and had proceeded down the Geor-Railroad. Genaral Wheeler was immediately notified of this, when he ordered one, Brigade from Kentucky, under Col. Buth r. one from Georgia, under Col. Craws, and one from Alabams, under Col. Allen, the entire force being under command of Gen. Iverson, to pursue them. This order was promptly obeycd. After proceeding about ten miles, our force came upon andetachment of Yankees which had evidently been -left there for the purpose of misleading them. A portion of Allen's brigade was left to skirmish with them while the remainder passed around in pursuit of the main body of Yankees. The evening of the third day after leaving Decatur, scou's under command of Captains Peyton, of the 9th, and Rogers of the 1st Kentucky Regiments came upon the enemy near Billsboro, Jasper county. Preparations for an attack were made immediately. The Alabamians were placed up n the left, the Kentuckians in the center and the Georgians upon the right. The fight commenced the next morning about 7 o'clock, the Yankers being driven about three miles. To the astonishment of all, a flag of truce came from the enemy to the front of the Kentucky Brigade, which was received by Capt. Smith, of the 9th, and Capt. Rogers, of the 1st, Kentucky Regiments, asking apon what terms a surrender could be made. Their reply was, by marching out one regiment at a time and stacking arms, until the entire force was disarmed; Gen. Stoneman and his command to be considered prisoners at the time the flag left the Yankee lines. The terms of surrender were immediately sent to Col. Butler, who was near by, in command of the Brigade, by Capts Smith and Rogers. Colonel Butler transmitted the message to Gen. Iverson, who was about a mile in the rear, and the terms were approved by that officer. Colonel Crews then came up and took an active part in the surrender, ordering the 3rd Georgia to take charge of the captured property, and Colonel Butler, commanding Williams' Kentucky Brigade, to send the 1st Kentucky to take charge of the prisoners .--The prisoners numbered 525, including Gen. Stoneman and staff, and Maj. Enval Edwards, of the 11th Kentucky (Federal) cavalry .-The enemy's loss in the engagement was about forty killed and seventy wounded. Our loss seven killed and about twenty wounded. Capt White's battery of artillery contributed much to our victory.

EVACUATION OF FORT POWELL - OR Friday afternoon the enemy's fleet formed around this little work, and after a long bombardment the place was evacuated, the garrison escaping to the mainland after night by wa-

We are not in possession of the particulars that led to the sarrender of this important fort, which is the key to the lower bay, and gives the enemy p. ssession of it at will, because, as soon as they open the pass obstructed by our engineers, the fleet can be supplied by transports from Pascagoula Sound. We hope the report of the young officer who commanded it, will show that it was not yielded while it was at all tenable. Its loss throws the city back upon its inner defences, and causes the abandonment of the ressonable hope that if it had been held, the fleet would have been forced to run to sea again by the guns of Fort Morgan, for its supplies .- Advertiser & Register, 7th.

GEN. McCook DEAD -- Tife Cincincati Commercial of the 20th announces the death of Gen. Daniel McCook, late of Sherman's army, and says; He died at the residence of his brother, Col. George W. McCook, in Steubenville, Onio, at two o'clock, p. m., Saturday last. It will be remembered that he was shot through just below the right shoulder, in the assault upon Kennesaw mountain, on the 27th of June. When the terrible nature of the wound is considered, the wonder is, not that he is dead, but that he lived so long, traveled so far, and was so hopeful of recovery.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 18, 1864. .

We have not commented, nor do we at presentintend to comment on the extraordinary political document emanating from a late author of some notoriety, and the reply thereto in Gov. Vance's organ of this town. . We are done for the present with politics-sufficiently disgusting when necessary. The question now is to rid the State of the remaining sources of commation. We are on record as to the proper mode of dealing with the disturbing elements of North Carolina. We put ourselves on record before the election, and we stand by the book. If Gov. Vance comes to the work we have indicated, and the Judges of North Carolina do their duty, all questions of difficulty will be speedily transferred from out the limits of North Carolina.

We call attention to-day to further atrocities,_ published in the Fayetteville Observer and Iredell Express, and described, this one as "Another awful tragedy," another as "Deserters voting at elections," and a third as "Troab'e in Wilkes." From these it appears that the tenure of loyal life in North Carolina is brittle as the "spider's most attenuated thread." Nothing is more common-squashes for dinner are less common in this day than the shooting down of loyal citizens. Four in Moore in one issue-four in Randolph in an. other, two days after the first, the last names not given -one hundred armed men appeared in Moore county-and vote, and vote all the same way, and all for their ally. "They were armed desperadoes, and the poll-holders did not dare to refuse their votes." "Fifteen or twenty men, loyal men, intending to vote for their country and for Gov. Vance, were deterred from voting at one box by these armed traitors." In Johnston, eighteen or twenty armed deserters came forward and voted, all against Gov. Vance. Twenty did the same thing in Richmond county.

And in Wilkes one hundred perpetrated the same wrong Felous upon whose lives a ferfair exists, bays the audacity thus to intrude on the legitmate right of suffrage and despoil it by force. As well might murderers, thieves and burglars break jail and seize the ballet box and deposite their votes.

And now in the same county of Wilkss. some four or five of the negular troops and two or three of the Home Quard were killed by

And yet there are in this State a Lieutenant General with full command of all the reserve forces, an excellent officer ready and prepared to faifill his duty to the uttermost ; and an Adjutant General's Bureau, controlled by one of the eidest and most experienced officers to be found in the old army from North Carolina

In the face of these proofs on which to rest, we again put the question; Is there to be peace, safety in North Carolina; or is agitation, unquiet, lawlessness, violence and murder

Will Gov. Vance meet the unanimous voice of the forty old thousand majority, who have berne him as a pairiot on the shoulders of a true leval sentiment, and crush out new, at once and for ever, the pestilential influences which the people have repudiated? Or will he again see the vipers hurse !, warmed, brought to life again and again, to sting the peace and harmony of the State ?

Is needs but a word from him, and an arn. ed host will spring to the succor of law and loyalty in the State. His proclamation distigetly defining the line of true citizenship, will obtain the almost unanimous concurrence of the entire State. With what contempt he and all good men must look upon a certain document, which proposes for its auther to densunce "political affiliation or correspondence of any kind with the Destructives," for that audacity which assumes "to put the Destructives outside the pale of association," and which continues to stir the PAR-TY CAULDRON, let him give an earnest and sixty thousand of the freemen of North Carolina will stand up again in his support. For our own part, we hope to see the work completed. We hope to see North Carolina made again the safe home of peaceful loyalty; and if there is bone in the system, marrow in the bones, muscle and fibre in the frame, and faithful red blood in the veins of those who wield and control the destinies of the State. we shall have a force-compelling influence that will convince all the mischievous elements of the necessity of subordination and Desertion will be ended-agitation will be stopped-life will be sacred, and a pure atmosphere substituted for the deleterious miasma which has settled so long over the State. Let Governor Vance but speak the word, and to his standard will rally such an array of loyalty as will float his standard more high and advanced than any Governor in the realm. Let him drive deserters to their duty, and compel adhesion to loyal allegiance, and he will take position along side of Davis and Lee, and go to posterity as one of the representative men of the Republic. The tide for him is eat its flood. Will he take it?

AROTHER AWFUL TRAGEDY .- We learn from the Fayetteville Observer, that on Monday last four of the Reserves of Raudolph county were shot dead by a party of deserters lying in ambush pear Franklinsville in that county. This was two days after the similar occurrence in Moore county, of which the particulars were given in our last. We did not learn the names of the four killed in Ran-

Not the Governments --- but the Administra-

Since the election for Governor, some of those who were most active and violent in endeavoring to procure the defeat of Gov. Vance, by speaking and publishing the bitterest things against the State and Confederate governments, are now endeavoring to "cover up their tracks," by saying that they have never denounced the government, either State or National, but on the contrary are their truest and best friendsand that they have only inveighed against the mai-administration of those governments.

Now even if, in the superabundance of charity, it be accredited to them that the consorious and malignant attacks made by them were prompted by all the patriotic impulses which they claim for themselves, yet they cannot deny, that in time of war, to oppose the administration of the government, unless it be guilty of treasonable practices, is to oppose the cause of the country itself, by throwing impediments in the way of its success, and destroying pubsie confidence in its integrity, ability and officiency. We do not mean those who criticise. particular measures, or who detect and. point out abuses, yet in the general yield to the administration of the government, civil and military, a cordial support. But we mean those who habitually speak ill and write ill of the government; who can see nothing but evil in the future, and who querulously complain of every body and everything. They know hew to censure, to find fault, to scandalize and vilify: but have never learned, and from their characters can never learn how to approve or appland any thing coming from these they have schooled themselves to hate. Their sole enjoyment seems to be to give pain and scatter alarm and distrust among their fellow-men, in order to gratify a fell spirit of revenge for imaginary or real slights and injuries, and who lavish abuse gratis, satisfied with the pleasure that abusing affords.

There are others not so demanstrative, perhans, but who strike at what they suppose to be a more effectual way of arousing distrust and dissatisfaction with the Government; and they direct their blows at its credit -its currency and bonds-by declaring them worthless and that repuliation is sure to follow. They are not opposed to the Government, but are its best friends, which they evince by endeavoring to make the people believe is bankrapt in purer, as they insist the administration of it is corrupt and wanting in efficiency.

The classes of which we have ing, are for the most part of a type of the arch-traitors Andy Johnson, Parson Brownlow, John Baxter-the leaders, we mean.-Their deluded followers are for the most part, more sinned against then sinning. We pity those who have been impose i upon and deceived by black-hearted traitors; and we feel sure that most of them, convinced of their whike I and unpatriotic designs, will return to true allegiance and good citizensem.

But the recent, election to North Cerdina shows that the opposedts to the administrations of the State and Confederate Governments comprise but an issignificant portion of the people and the army of North d'arciina : and it is rapidly diminishing in cumbe s. as the success of our arms vindicates the wisdom, ability and energy of these administrations. It is therefore 4 -good time for all who have been beguiled into opposition to quit their factious course and come over to a hearty support of the President of the Confederacy and the Governor of the State, in their efforts to uphold and maintain the cause of Southern rights and the independence of the Rapublic. For, as a cotemporary who has freely criticised President Davis' administration, and who is a firm adherent to Gov. Brown and Vice President Stephens platform, says, the conduct of the Government; civil and military, has been so successful throughout the pr sent year as to convince the most increduous, that the President and his Cabinet are neither dolts or traitors; but wise, patriotic and energetic men .-The spirit of faction, or of disaffection alone, it would seem, could induce men to oppose such an Administration. In time of war, even an isdifferent Administration is entitled to the support of the country, for an indifferent Administration, thus supported, can effect more of good than the wisest and best Administration, that is opposed and thwarted at every turn by the spirit of faction and disaffection. In time of war, transition from opposition to Government to treason, is easy natural and very common. It is the bounden duty of every good citizen, every patriot. to take and to make occasion to speak well of a Government whose measures, in the aggregate, are wise and efficient. Neutralin is almost treasen - silence a grave effence. Everybody is morally bound to aid, so far as he can, in the defence of his country and the prosecution of the war. Those who can do nothing ele can, at least, by defending the Government from the assaults of an ignorant and factious opposition, cheer up the spirits and encourage the hopes of our people, induce them still to flock to the standard of their country and nerve their arms in the hour of Foreign nations-impartial observers-who estimate so very highly the character, the wisdom and practical ability of the President, will have just cause to doubt our capacity for self-government, when they see how much abuse is lavished upon him. A people who cannot appreciate the marits of a good President, when they have elected one, are surely unfit for self-government. Thus will foreignere think and say. But the opposition are not the people—only a small minority of the people—yet including in the ranks with the ignorance, disaffection and treason within the Confederacy; whilst we admit and lament that there may be good and true men among them.

Could the vote of the patrictic partof the opposition (for some of them are patriots) be taken on the question, shall Jefferson Davis and Z. B. Vance resign and other men be put in their places? we believe they would almost unanimously reject the proposition, because they would prefer the present incumbents to any nutried men.

Still Misrepresenting.

In the last issue of the Standard, we find s repetition of the garbled extract from the Richmond Enquirer, for which we tabored it and the Progress a few days before the election, concerning peace negotiations. It still efuses to publish the paragraph of the Enquirer which contains the meaning of that paper and the considerations upon which it proposed the discu sion of the questions and is its stead puts into the mouth of its Editors a proposition no where deducible from the article in question It is to merethan we expected that it should misconstrue and pervert our recent article on peace. It promises to copy that article, and will, we presume, accompany it with other such fair and legitimate deductions as the critique on the Enquirer's article contairs. We shall withold turther exposure of its disingenuousness, till we "see what we shall see." In the mentime we ask that paper to point out where and when the Confederate has under aty circumstances advocated or expressed a willingness to " return to the federal Union," as charged by the Stondard? It might as well et desvor to persuade the people of North Carolina that it had never preached disleyal and treasonable rentiments towards the Confederate Government, of which it stands convicted by fifty thousand of ber voters.

The Standard has all along conterded that the war can only be brought to a close by necotiation. Of course a proposition for l'econstruction would be among the first submitted by the North. It would necessarily bave to be discussed, for and against, and it would as assuredly be rejected by the South. The Standard knows this, but it hopes to hide its former departures from loyalty by talsely charging the enormity upon others.

It will not avail. The people of North Caroling thoroughly undergrand the Standard and its editor, and have expressed their appreciation of them in a manner he cannot reisun-

The telegraphic dispatches report a severe fight on the Charles City road, near White's Tavera, below Richmond. It ensued from a determined effort by the enemy to force our libes, covering Richmond on those approaches. Several assaults were made upon our lines, and at one time a portion was gained by the enemy ; but he was driven back and the posttion was recounied and maintained. The enemy was driven across White Oak Swamp.

This affair occurred on Monday last, and Burnside's negro troops led the charge. They are said to have been slaughtered furiously, the carrage exceeling the late disaster at Private intelligence conveys the news of the death of another of the bereic youth of Raleigh-another bouse bold is desolateanother family bereaved and is mourning .-Capt . George Bryan has been killed in this battle-fallen like to the others of that glorious band, who have so nobly, alas ! So fatally represented this community, in the bloody actiens of this war. We trust some one familiar with the special incidents of his career will do justice to his menory.

The Yankers have devoured, with the vovacity of starvation, the small crumbs of comfort derived from the cavalry affair at Moorfield. Various and conflicting have been the accounts of this paltry reverse, and all exaggerated to the highest allowance by the Northern news. It seems at last to have been nothing more than a surprise of one or two companies, brought about by the treachery of certain pickets, who were Union men, or "H. O. A.'s," perhaps. In the melee, some two hundred and fifty or three handred of Brig. Gen. B. T. J. hoston's command were the sufferers, and four pieces of artillery were taken. We have not heard any fault attributed to this officer, whose gallant career should suffer no depreciation from this misksp.

The Baltimore Gazette thinks Admiral Farragut can accomplish very little more than he has done, as the main channel, for a distance of twenty five miles below the city, will not admit of the passage of vessels drawing more than ten and a half feet water at the highest tides, and is, moreover, closed by a series of piles, which are in turn command d by formidable works on which guns of the heaviest cali-bre have been mounted. The Boston Herald day a report reached the city that a bri-k ouable works on which guns of the heaviest calithinks that Farragut's design is to obtain persesion of Dauphin Island and Mobile Point, se that the harbour can be effectually blockaded without the retention of so large a feet there. The Gazette has not much faith in their capturing the city.

Se that after all, the great Yankee expedition against Mobile will prove barron of any important result.

A correspondent, "Ivy Green," writing to the Wilmington Journal an account of the naval combat below Mobile, sava:

In this engagement the Old North State furnished one Commander, P. W. Murphy, of the "Selma," who fought is ship against the Hartford (sixteen guns) with much skill, until all hope of victory vanished and then as if madress drave him on, he ran up, fixed a broadside into her, and surrendered. Thouste in Wilses .- The Iredell Express has learned that the troops and to arrest deserter in the neighborhood of Tree Hit had quites severe chiemish with a large number of these miscreants in that section on Tuesday and Wedneday last. Bome four or five of Capt. McMillan's company are reported to Have been killed, likewise two on three of the Home Guard. If such is the case, and we have no reason to doubt, this is truly a sad state of affairs in our unigaboring county .-We here that every possible means will be used to drive these worse than Yankers from the State and reader it too bot for them to return. We have beard so particulars more than that a fight actually did take place and that the troops were compelled to retreat with the less stated.

DESERTERS VOTING AT THE ELECTION -It was stafed by the Wilmirgion Journal that four deserters, confined at that place, were allowed to vote at the late election (very improperly we think,) and that they voted for Holden, of course. We learn from reliable sources that more than 100 deserters and recusant conscripts appeared at the polis at three precincts in Moore county and voted for Holden. They were armed esperadoes and the poll bolders did not dare to refuse their votes, 15 or 20 Vance pien were deterred from voting at one box by these a med trai-tors. At one precinct in Johnston county we learn that 25 armed deserters voted for Helden. At one pail in Riehmond county about 20 deserters, armed as usual, appeared and voted for Holden And the Conservative learns that 100 deserters voted for Holden at one precinct in Wilkes county.

How many instances of the same kind there were in the State at the late election we know not. It would be well to collect the evidence of all such cases. We think it would be stewn that a very considerable prepertion-perhaps one-fourth-of all the votes cast for Holden were of that sort.

Mai. Charles M. Roberts, the dauntless and intiring, has just returned from another scout into the coves and mountains of East Tennessee. In ebedience to instructions !rem Col. There are now ever one hunded orphans, made so by the war, and twenty-two widows, in this little settlement. Yet there is not a disloyal man or woman among them. The News.

The quiet which has reigned in this city for some weeks, was broken yesterday, by reports of heavy firing heard about six o'clock in the evening. The firing continued at ingagement had taken place on the New Market road, in the vicinity of Malvern Hill. Up to a late hour last night no official information in regard to the affair had been received at the War Department, and we are therefore unable to give any statement in regard to the result or the forces engaged. The enemy were crossing heavy force at Deep Bottom during yesterday and Saturday.

The firing below Richmond on the Chesterfield side, on Saturday morning, preceeded frem an engagement between our batteries at Howlett's and the enemy's gunboats. The results were unimportant, so far as transpired .- Examiner.

The Sublimity of Impudence After a week's deliberation and silence set the election, Mr. W. W. Holler and published a long article in the Resident of the Resident is re-elected through he has not yet taid up in plain teams. But it is to the following extract from that formal address to the readers of the Standard that we desire to call the attention of our readers:
"I will never in any event humiliate my

the footstool of the Destructive party, or fase with the footstool of the Destructive party, or fase with that party. Nothing shall separate as from Conservative principles or from the Conservative party, for at is, any first belief that it is the only party that can heal the bleeding wounds of the Constitution, protect and preserve the Boerty of the citizen, and secure to the country an honorable and lasting peace. I hold "the sword in one hand and the clive branch in the other,"—the sword for the Destructives, and the clive branch for all good and true Conservatives. It would be the height of vanity and arrogance in me to assume that citizens professing to be Conservatives, who did not vote for me are not good Conservatives, however much for me are not good Conservatives, however much I may regret the recent union at the ballot-box of the Destructives and of many tried Conservatives. It shall not be my fault if this union is centified and perpetuated. If it should be, the Conservative party will be swallowed up and lost; but if every true Conservative, forgetting the past, and impress d alone with the importance of maintaining is principles in their purity, will dissolve this union, and resolve to have no political affiliation or correspondence of any kind with the Destructives, and will so act on all occasions, whether as a representative of the people or as a citizen, as to put the Destructives outside the pale of his associations, the great Conservative party will be res tored to its former integrity and strength, and will be enabled hereafter, asheretofore, to confer upon the country all those benefits and blessings which it was hoped would flow from it when it was formed and organized.

And in connection with this is the following paragraph from another part of the same

"The Legislature. - We give below the names of members elected to the Legislature as far as ascertained. We count thus far twenty-five Conservatives "after the straitest sect"-fifty-five Vance Conservatives, and forty-eight Destructives. The Destructives proper will not have more than sixty-five members, on joint ballot. The to houses consist of one hundred and seventy members, but generally there are not more than one hundred and fifty in their seats. The joint ballot vote will, therefore, generally be ninety Conservatives and sixty Destructives?

Have we not well characterized this as the sublimity of impudence? Mr. Holden has been furiously denouncing Gove Vance and all those who would vote for him as "Destructives." Well, some 50,000 thus voted, leaving 10,000 to 12 000 "Conservatives," so called, voting for Holden. Herenpon Mr. Holden swears that nothing small separate him from the "Jonservative party," into which, by a sugie dash of his pen, he reinstates himself and his 10 or 12 000 followers, check by jowl with the 30,000 Vance "Conservatives" whom he had just outlawed as "Destructives!" and this sell constituted dictator, who has just keen so emphatically kicked out of all paries except that to which the descriters have attached themselves, coolly tells the 80,000 that it is their duty to bave 'ne political affiliation or correspondence of any kind with the Destructives," and further that they must have no association with the said Destructives. wither as representatives of the people or as citizens! And for whoes benefit is this political and social non-intercourse to be establielied? Evident y for the benefit of W. W. Holden. The signal scorning of bint by the people as their would be Governor appears not to have satisfied bis insutiable ambition. but be remembers, that Mr Dortch's Senatorial term will seou expire, and that the Legislature just elected will have that high place to fill so he at once begins so count noses to see by what impudent combinations he may manage to band together a -ufficient number of the members elect to secure that other object of bis long desire. He proposes that the true and faithful patrio's who have been elected to the Legislaturess friends to Gov. Vance. to the State and to the Confederacy, shall demean themselves by uniting with the corporal's guard -about 15 in number, magnified by him into 25-of Holdenites: "That they shall single out 65 members, elected along with themselves as friends to Vance and the Confederacy, for political and social cotracism - have no political affiliation or correspondeace of any kind', with these 65, but "put them sutride the pale of his associations."-Really, the impudence of such propositions is caly equalled by its inlamy. The Standard takes care not to specify its 25 by name. The public would doubtless be interested in knowing who they are; also who are the 55 and the 48. The "Vance Conservatives" were all "Destructives" before the

Another characteristic fact, is embodied in the extract we make. Mr Holden shelds the sword in one hand"-(metaphorically of course) -but it is not to be used against the ya: kees-te makes no war upon them-but it is "for the Destructives."

. We have thus presented to our readers this new move of the Standard and Mr. Holdena move intended to obliterate the condemnation passed upon him by the people at the tallet-brx. It will not do. KICHMOND. And 17.—An official dispatch received last night, mater that the enemy yesterday made a determined attack on our line between Darbytown and White's Tavern on Charles City road, and at our line the enemy broke through, but was repulsed and our original positions re-occupied. A later dispatch says the enemy did not renew the attack on our lines after four o'clock yesterday. His force on Charles City road, after advancing to within two miles of White's Tavern, was driven back across White Oak awamp. One was driven back across White Oak awamp. Our loss small. The Examiner this morning says the enemy made several figure amonts. Burnaide's negro troops leading the enemy's charge. The slaughter of negroes exceeded the carmage at Petersburg on the 30th July. The enemy's lesses reported very heavy Confederate Brigadier General Chambliss, killed.

BESTATCH.1. GICHMOND, Aug. 17.—Acting Brig. General Girardy, commanding Wright's brigade, was shot through the head and killed in battle vesterday. His body was brought here and will be sent to Georgia for sepulture.

Frem Atlanta.

ATLANTA, Aug. 16.—A party of the enemy's cavalry that passed through Decatur last evening, after reaching Cobb's Mills, returned at night. It is supposed to be only a reconneisance. Another, which moved simultaneously from Orl Creek church struck the Atlanta and West Point railroad at Fairburn and burned the depot and tore up the track in several places. They then withdrew three miles and went into camp. The orors are variously estimated at frem two to five thousand. The track has since been repaired, but trains are not allowed to run, in consequence of the proximity of the enemy. Last night and to-day unusual quiet along the lines, the enemy's artillery remarkably quiet, which is generally attributed to a scarcity of ammunition and obstructions on his lines of communication.

But few shells were thrown into the city last night, which set fire to a frame house on Peach Tree street. Loss small. .

[SECOND DISPATCH.] RICHMOND, Aug. 17 .- The N. Y. Herald of the 13th has been received. It renews the suggestion of Lincoln's peace commissioners to Richmond, and says, we have arrived at that stage of exhaustion in the war when every consideration of wisdom, patriotism and humanity suggest the propriety of magnanimous bona fide movement on the part of the administration in behalf of peace.

The Herald announces that its daily issue will hereafter be four cents per copy. It was expected that Fersenden would reform financial affairs: but instead, he has played deeper into the sea of paper money. National finances are now more unsettled than ever. The Herald says it is evident now, that half the papers in the country must soon stop publication.

The raitimore Gazette of the 16th has been re-

PETERSBURG, Aug. 17 .- Deserters and prisoners brought in to-day concur in the statement that Burnside's and Warren's corps are etill in our front here; while Hancock's second corps, and parhaps other infantry are operating on the north aids of James river.

Advices from headquarters here, confirm the defeat of the enemy in the fight of yesterday near Whites Tavern on the north side of James river. Our loss not very large. Among our losses are Gens. Girardey and Chambliss killed. The fight is supposed to be renewed to some extent to-day,

From Atlanta.

ATLANTA, Aug. 17.—The enemy's cavalry have retired from the vicinity of Fairburn, a portion crossing the river near Campbletown. The trains are running as usual. The enemy are busily engaged fortifying the north side of the Chattaboochee, principally along Powder, Sherman's and Campbletown roads, in the vicinity of Sweetwater. Everything quiet along the front. The enemy opened fire on Atlanta from another gun, supposed to be a 61-pounder planted on the Mirietta road. Slow firing kept up all night, resulting in killing one person:

- DIED.

DICD,

At the residence of Mr. F. M. Harper, in Lemoir county, July 13th, 1864, of typhoid pneuhonia, Mr LOTT A. CROOM, aged 23 years.

When the war broke out he was ready, at the first call of his country, to leave the comforts and endearments of his home and family, to enter the list of brave men who have stood up in defence of our rights. He entered service June, 1864, company B, 10th regiment North Carolina troops. All words seem fruitless to do justice to that charter which endeared him to all with whom he came in contact. He was a devoted son, husband and father, a kind brother, faithful friend, a true patriot and a brage soldier. He leaves in affectionate mother, wife and one child, and sixters to mourn their irreparable loss.

May that God who has promised to be a husband to the widow and a father to the orphan, keep and save his bereaved ones.
